Public Annuitant Society, July 6, 1772.

At a very numerous General Meeting held at the Queen's Arms Tavern, St. Paul's Church-Yard, the Directors reported, that they were unanimously of Opinion, from inspecting the State of the Society, and from Calculations they had ordered to be made, that the Payments of the Members were very inadequate to the Terms proposed, and that the Fund of the Society would be very insufficient to pay the Annuities promised by the Proposals; therefore they recommended to the General Meeting, that the Society be dissolved, and the Money already paid, returned; and that a Committee be appointed by the General Meeting for that Purpose. Whereupon, at the said General Meeting, it was unanimously
